

Appendix B: Laws Authorizing Interlocal Cooperation

APPENDIX B

Examples of Texas Laws Authorizing Interlocal Cooperation¹

Function	Statute	Citation
Conservation	Interlocal financing of drainage, flood control or water supply facilities. Interlocal acquisition of rights-of-way for construction and maintenance of flood control facilities.	WATER CODE §51.168-51.170
	Water district lease of irrigation system to another district.	WATER CODE §51.173-51.177
	Annual contracting power of levee improvement districts.	WATER CODE §57.120
Emergency	Planning for 9-1-1 emergency communications services by councils of governments	HEALTH & SAFETY CODE §771.055
	Interjurisdictional contracts for disaster preparedness and coordination of response.	GOV'T CODE §418.109
General	Joint governmental services and facilities to city across state line.	GOV'T CODE §763.002
	Interlocal contracts for governmental facilities.	GOV'T CODE §791.001
	Regional planning commission contracts with participating governmental unit.	LOC. GOV'T CODE §391.005

¹ Derived from Durable Partnerships in Texas: The Interlocal Contract at Mid-Decade, University of Texas at Arlington, 1995.

Function	Statute	Citation
Natural Resources	Interlocal water quality management, inspection, and enforcement services.	WATER CODE §26.175
Personnel	Joint employment of auditors by counties with certain other counties. Services of an employee of a local government or of an administrative agency created by contract or records management officer for other local governments.	LOC. GOV'T CODE §84.008 LOC. GOV'T CODE §203.025(f)
Planning	Creation of joint planning commissions by contiguous cities. Multi-city-county formation of regional planning commissions (councils of governments). River authority cooperation with other governments for river basin planning.	LOC. GOV'T CODE §371.042 LOC. GOV'T CODE §391.003 WATER CODE §30.103, §30.104
Property	Property acquisition through joint city or city-county arrangements, including condemnation. County contracts with certain small cities for use of public buildings for county purposes.	LOC. GOV'T CODE §273.001 LOC. GOV'T CODE §305.001